TRAINING

How does your training service work?

We'll arrange a full discussion with you about your company's training needs and then tailor-make the course to meet your requirements in terms of timings and delivery method.

Can I meet with Grey Seal to discuss our training needs?

Yes, of course. We'll arrange an initial telephone conversation with you to determine your needs and then organise a follow-up meeting where we can discuss what we think would best support you in more detail.

Who is our point of contact when programmes are delivered by external training organisations?

You will still have a dedicated Grey Seal Account Manager who will be your point of contact and manage and oversee the whole programme.

How do you accommodate different learning styles and experience levels?

Before we deliver any training, our experienced trainers will conduct an in-depth training needs analysis to determine your requirements and better understand the different learning styles and experience levels of the people who will be taking part in the training.

How long does it take from the initial consultation to completion of a training programme?

Some of our programmes are time specific and will need to be completed within a set time frame. Generally though, we create our programmes to meet the needs of the organisation and individuals, in which case we can work to your time frames for delivery.

Are all of the qualifications recognised nationally?

We offer a vast range of qualifications that are recognised nationally. However, you may have a specific need within your organisation to focus in one area and this is something we can discuss with you.
